My First Experience in Career

Last month, I had the privilege of participating in our school's initiative, "My First Experience in Career." It aimed to provide students like me with a glimpse into diverse professions.

My journey began at a local hospital, where I shadowed as a diligent nurse for a day. Witnessing her interactions with patients, meticulous care, and swift decision-making, I gained a deeper understanding of the immense responsibility and compassion required in this noble profession. It was an eye-opening experience that left me grateful for the healthcare workers who tirelessly save lives.

This practical experience transformed me, increasing my knowledge and igniting ambition. I'm thankful to our school for organizing such a meaningful program and excited for future opportunities.

One possible version:

Paragraph 1: I remembered my little first-aid kit. Grabbing my package in no time, I stormed into the hall where I saw Emily sitting on the floor, her face contorted in pain, her arm reddened and swollen. Kneeling beside her and gently unwrapping the first-aid kit, I quickly yet carefully cleaned the burned area with the antiseptic cream, applied a gauze pad to the burn, and secured it with a bandage. Emily's eyes were filled with tears, but she still managed a grateful nod. "Thank you," she whispered, her voice hoarse. "It's okay," I reassured her. Soon, many of the other girls heard of my little kit and paid me a visit for various needs. The little gift I had questioned now led me toward new friendships. As it broke diseases, it also broke the ice, allowing me to meet and befriend many in the dorm.

Paragraph 2: Years later, I received a party invitation from a young friend who was graduating from high school. Eager as I was to attend her party, I was at a loss what gift to prepare. Then like a bolt out of the blue, memories of my own party rushed back to me, and I smiled at the opportunity presenting itself. As I drove to the pharmacy, I knew exactly what gift I would give her: a first-aid kit. When I arrived at her party with the very gift for her, her eyes widened in surprise at it, exactly as what I did years ago. I smiled and explained the depth and meaning behind my choice. It was not just a first-aid kit but a chance to be a friend. Knowing the whole story, she took it and winked at me, "Yes, it is bandage for bond".

听力原文:

Text 1

W: How is the weather today?

M: It's beautiful. The sun is shining. It's nice and warm. (1)

W: It's much better than the cloudy day yesterday, isn't it?

M: Yes, although the wind will probably pick up later.

Text 2

W: Peter, I've just had a call from Jack. He is ill and won't be at work today, so could you make his Monday calls to the customers? (2)

M: But I'm busy. Can't Gary do it?

W: Gary's going to be late. His car broke down.

Text 3

M: Excuse me. I'm looking for chocolate-chip cookies. I can't find them in the dessert row or the candy section.

W: That's because they're in the baking section. Go to the front of the store and turn right. You'll see the baking area in front of you. (3)

Text 4

W: Did you go anywhere during the winter holiday?

M: Yes. I went back to my hometown with my father. I was brought up there and didn't leave until I was six. But it has changed a lot. I could hardly tell where anything was after twenty years. (4)

Text 5

W: I was rushing to feed the horses this morning when I tripped over a big root in the woods. I fell and cut my knee quite badly. (5)

M: I did something similar. I slipped over on the ice and hurt my left arm during the winter.

Text 6

M: Have you heard the news?

W: What news?

M: Colin fell and broke his leg on holiday. His teacher had to drive him home and he's going to be off school for eight weeks. (6)

W: Oh no, poor Colin. He's been away for two weeks, hasn't he? I was expecting him to be back next week.

M: Yes, it happened on the last day of his holiday.

W: He'll fall behind with his schoolwork.

M: His teacher said he'd send him some homework to do. His classmates have sent him a card as well.

W: I think we should go to visit him at home. (7)

Text 7

W: Look, I find this picture in a wildlife magazine. The monkey is so cute. I think we should do something to help animals at risk of extinction.

M: Like what?

W: I think we should adopt an animal. (8)

M: Adopt? Do you mean owning a wild animal and it lives in our house?

W: Of course not. When you adopt an animal, you pay money to the animal charity. The money goes toward protecting the animal from hunting and other dangers.

M: Oh, I see. So, what animal are you thinking of? Something like an elephant, or a panda?

W: Elephants and pandas are good animals, but I am thinking of a tiger. (9)

M: OK, we can do that.

W: And if you adopt an animal, (10) the charity will send you updates of the animal you have adopted to show you how it's going... And you will get a nice soft toy too! (10)

M: Hmm. Something tells me that's the real reason you want to adopt an animal!

Text 8

M: Oh, this is getting really annoying.

W: What is it?

M: My laptop. I can be working on it and then, all of a sudden, I get a black screen. (11)

W: Does it happen a lot?

M: It happened a few times so I took it to be fixed. The repairman said the problem was a tiny battery inside that needed replacing.

W: Did he replace it?

M: Yes, but the problem hasn't gone away. Look — black screen.

W: How long have you had your laptop?

M: Only about five years.

W: You know, that's about how long a laptop lasts. I think it's time you bought a new one.

M: But they are so expensive.

W: You should try Electro-Land. They have some real bargains. (12) My friend got one from there and he loves it.

M: Don't you think I should have another try at getting it repaired?

W: If it keeps breaking down, I think it is sending you a message. You have used it for five years. Maybe it's time for a change.

M: OK, but first I am going to read about which is the best one to buy. (13)

Text 9

W: Hello, this is Land Transport Information at Toronto Pearson International Airport. How may I help you?

M: Oh, good morning. I'm flying to Toronto next Friday, (14) and I need to get to York University. Could you tell me what is the best way to get there? Taking the subway or calling a taxi?

W: Neither. York University is about 20 miles northeast from here. You'd better take the airport shuttle. (15) It will take you from the airport right to your hotel or private address.

M: That sounds great. Can I book that now?

W: Sure. So, what date do you want to book this for?

M: The 16th of August.

W: And when will you arrive at the airport?

M: I think it's 11:40 a.m. (16)

W: Then if I book your shuttle for 12:30 p.m., that will give you plenty of time to get your bags. (16)

M: Yes, that's fine.

W: What's your name?

M: James Thompson.

W: OK. What flight will you be traveling on?

M: It's Air Canada, flight number AC936, from London Heathrow.

W: That's $45, please. (17)

M: My Visa card number is 33038450.

W: OK. That's everything. Have a nice trip. (17)

M: Thanks.
